Les Frères Laffitte
Rosé, 2017,
Gascogne, France

Come here, you ray of sunshine. Red summer fruits, first a bouquet, then a basket, are countered by just enough citrus refreshment. Drink after an hour in the warm sun, tilt your head back and drift.

What We Taste:

Red fruits and berries with a hint of citrus.

Domaine des
Aspras Les Trois
Frères Rosé,
2018, Provence,
France

Homage to the three bros (Raphael, Sebastian & Alexander). The Domaine follows the Latz family's motto: Know yourself. The Domaine is located in the village of Correns, the first totally organic village in France.

What We Taste:

Strawberry, raspberry, mint, peach and white flowers.

Girolamo Russo
Rosato, 2018,
Etna DOC,
Sicily, Italy

From the oldest part of Giuseppe Russo's single-vineyard San Lorenzo plot, this rosato is juicy and refreshing thanks to the clean cut of minerality that runs through it. You get the impression that Giuseppe learned all there is to know about Sicilian rosato.

What We Taste:

Pomegranates and wild strawberries.

Domaine des
Aspras Licorne
Cuvée Rosé,
2015, Provence,
France

The Unicorn is a symbol of strength & beauty. The symbol has been representing the Latz family since the 18th century. Wines produced under the Cuvée Licorne, or Unicorn, are highly sort and aged in precious wooden oak barrels

What We Taste:

Intense and complex marked by aromas of vanilla.
