Dutton
Goldfield,
Dutton Ranch
Chardonnay,
Russian River
Valley

Did you just think Sutton Coldfield? That's fine, so did we. But this is very much yummy not Brummie. In this wine Dan and Steve have tried to produce their vision of a classic Russian River Valley Chardonnay. Grapes are picked from five of their eighty little plots scattered through the region, most of the vines are over 30 years old.

What We Taste:

Lemon, lime, peach, apricot, tropical fruit, ginger biscuit, pear & cream.

Starmont
Winery,
Chardonnay,
Napa Valley

Starmont's White wine evokes the unique spirit of the Carneros region! A state-of-the-art winery located on the historic Stanly Ranch Estate, Starmont Winery & Vineyards is a member of the Napa Sustainable Winegrowing Group. The winery & estate vineyards have been certified through the Napa Green Program since 2007. It gently floats flavours of like a warm sea breeze. It's both expressive and approachable.

What We Taste:

Tropical fruits & apple, along with citrus, fresh mineral & subtle oak, Californian winemaking in a glass

Starmont
Winery,
Cabernet
Sauvignon,
Napa Valley

There's a few things about Californians that you just feel as soon as you meet them. Care-free, easy-going & highly spirited people, & when they make wine you can even taste it! It's hard to imagine how life was prior to tasting this naughty little number. It's like sipping sunshine on Venice Beach at Sunset... once you have a taste, you'll be there in mind, body and spirit! Starmont winery, a worthy of a spot on LA's Walk of Fame!

What We Taste:

Dark berries, some herbs with background notes of baking spices. Fruit flavors along with subtle toasty oak

Rombauer
Vineyards,
Zinfandel,
Napa Valley

Zinfandel is considered by many to be America's heritage grape & was introduced to California during the legendary Gold Rush. This one is a tribute to Californian wine history & was sourced from some of the state's oldest & most revered wine regions, from family-owned vineyards that in some cases date back over 100 years.

What We Taste:

Same plushness of a new velvet sofa, where you indulge in dark chocolate & freshly baked cherry pie
